- Leverage MediaTone™ technology to conduct online meetings with support for PowerPoint transitions and animations and the sharing of complex media types

Maintain Your Competitive Advantage with On-Demand, Online Meetings

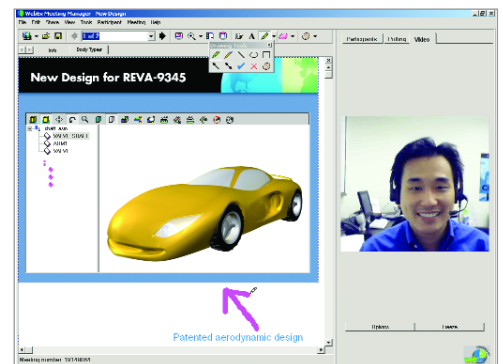

In today's business environment, maintaining a competitive advantage means enabling employees, customers, and business partners to communicate and share information, in real-time, regardless of location. With on-demand, interactive multimedia communications, you can enhance operational efficiency, increase sales force effectiveness, and improve customer and partner relationships.

Developed by the leader in interactive business communication services, WebEx Meeting Center integrates data, voice, video, and live multimedia within a standard Web browser, so you can conduct secure, reliable real-time meetings over the Internet—among employees, customers, and business partners—anytime, anywhere. From virtually any laptop, desktop, or wireless handheld device. With Meeting Center, employees can instantly collaborate and share ideas, whether in their office, at home, or on the road. Salespeople can conduct presentations and demonstrations without leaving the office. And customers and business partners can stay current on new product updates and sales initiatives.

Meeting Center makes your online meetings as effective as in-person meetings by allowing you to share any application, document or presentation in a meeting—in real time. Include Microsoft® PowerPoint™ presentations with animations and slide transitions. And share rich media within your presentations to create a highly interactive meeting experience.

Conduct Secure, Reliable Meetings—Anytime, Anywhere

As the pioneer in the field, WebEx today delivers the industry's leading platform for Internet-based interactive communication services. All WebEx services are delivered over the WebEx Interactive Network™, a private, fully redundant high-capacity worldwide communications network, providing the highest performance and quality of service. And with support for industry-standard SSL encryption, you can conduct even the most sensitive meetings with confidence.

IN A WEBEX MEETING, YOU CAN CONDUCT INTERACTIVE DEMOS OF ANY APPLICATION AND PERSONALIZE THE SESSION WITH INTEGRATED VIDEO AND TELEPHONY.
